

NOVEMBER 2-4, 2025
LOEWS ATLANTA HOTEL

BCoD 2025 Conference Recap

INSIGHTS, IMPACT & CONNECTION

EXPLORE MORE AT
BCOFDERMATOLOGY.COM

INTRODUCTION

The Biologic Coordinators of Dermatology (BCoD) was created to support biologic coordinators and dermatology professionals navigating one of the most complex and evolving areas of patient care. From access and affordability to coordination across providers, payers, pharmacies, and manufacturers, this work requires precision, resilience, and deep expertise.

The BCoD 2025 Conference brought this mission to life, convening members from across the country for three days of focused education, practical skill-building, and peer connection. Designed by and for biologic coordinators, the conference created space to learn, share real-world strategies, and strengthen a professional community grounded in collaboration and mutual support.

The impact was clear: attendees left energized, better equipped, and reaffirmed in the value of the work they do every day.

CONFERENCE PROGRAMMING

The BCoD 2025 Conference agenda was intentionally designed to reflect the real-world responsibilities of biologic coordinators working in dermatology practices. Through keynote presentations, interactive workshops, case-based discussions, and product-specific access sessions, attendees explored strategies they could immediately apply in their roles.

PROGRAMMING SPANNED THE FULL BIOLOGIC COORDINATION JOURNEY, INCLUDING:

- Strengthening collaboration between providers and biologic coordinators
- Navigating patient access for specialty dermatology therapies
- Understanding commercial coverage, buy-and-bill models, and biosimilars
- Optimizing workflows, documentation, and benefits verification
- Leveraging technology and AI while addressing burnout and capacity challenges
- Recognizing patient diversity, lived experience, and health equity in dermatology

Sessions balanced tactical instruction with professional development, empowering members to not only navigate access challenges, but to confidently own their role within their practices.

INTERACTIVE & NETWORKING SESSIONS

Beyond formal education, the BCoD 2025 Conference emphasized connection – creating meaningful opportunities for members to learn from one another and share lived experiences.

HIGHLIGHTS INCLUDED:

- Speed Networking Session
- Interactive Roundtables
- Peer-Led Workshops
- Patient Experiences Panel
- BCoD Member Meeting
- Welcome & Exhibit Hall Receptions

PROGRAMMING NOTES

↙ Focus: Real-world biologic coordination and access strategies for dermatology practices

↙ Format: Educational sessions, interactive workshops, panels, and peer discussions

↙ Faculty: Industry experts, experienced biologic coordinators, and dermatology leaders

CONFERENCE ATTENDANCE

BCoD 2025 drew a diverse group of members representing dermatology practices, clinics, and healthcare organizations across the United States. Attendees included biologic coordinators, medical assistants, practice managers, and support staff – all united by a shared commitment to improving patient access and outcomes.

The strong turnout reflected the growing demand for role-specific education and community within dermatology biologic coordination.

RAVE REVIEWS FROM 2025 ATTENDEES

"I have been a member of BCoD for over four years; however, 2025 was my first conference. To say I was impressed would be an understatement. The speakers, presentations, and industry representation were nothing short of incredible."

"Attending the BCoD 2025 Conference was an overwhelmingly positive experience. Sharing mutual experiences and hearing stories from fellow BCs felt like a support group for our everyday struggles."

"This is my fourth conference. I always learn so much at BCoD! I leave with pages of notes, which I present to my office staff to assist with documentation to obtain approvals for our patients."

THE RESULTS ARE IN...

100%

OF ATTENDEES WOULD RECOMMEND BCoD TO A COLLEAGUE

BC
OD

STAY CONNECTED

The BCoD community continues to support biologic coordinators and dermatology professionals throughout the year. Whether attending the conference, engaging with peers, or accessing ongoing resources, members benefit from a network built on shared expertise and collaboration.

Scan the QR code or visit bcodermatology.com to access resources, community updates, and information about membership.

